By This Plan City Fathers Hope To Prevent Threatened Closing of System in September.

COMMITTEE IS NAMED TO PASS ON LEGALITY

Action on Request for Revision of Money Sheet Postponed Until Council Meets.

An effort to prevent threatened closing of the city schools in September by fixing a monthly limit to the portion of the total school appropriation that the school board can draw each month was launched by the finance committee of council at its special session Thursday.

On motion of Alderman Claude E. Buchanan, a special committee composed of Alderman J. R. Buchanan, finance committee chairman; Mayor Walter A. Sims and City Attorney James L. Mayson was designated to examine the city charter and ordinances governing school finances to see if a monthly limit can be placed legally on payments to the school department.

The spent $1,100,000. The action of the committee was taken after questions from its members had drawn from Comptroller West the information that the school department already has been paid $1,100,000 of its $2,100,000 annual appropriation and that of this sum more than $300,000 is money borrowed from banks on which 13.4 per cent interest has been paid. The interest on school money is charged against the school appropriation, it was explained.

"It is an outrage to tax the children in Atlanta public schools with interest on money advanced to the school board when the city has to borrow money from the banks to make the advances," Alderman Buchanan asserted in explaining his motion.

The bulk of payments from city ad valorem taxes do not come into the city treasury until later in the year, it was explained, and the city has been compelled to borrow money from the banks to finance operations of the school department pending collection of the normal revenue. The school board's November and December pay rolls of last year, amounting to more than $300,000 were met with borrowed money, which was repaid this year, he said to have made the new loans to the city necessary this year.

By placing a limit on the funds payable to the schools each month, Alderman Buchanan said it may be possible to save money left after September 1 with which to continue operation of schools through the year until January 1, when next year's revenues will be available.

Money for Advertising. The committee also authorized payment to the extension bureau of the chamber of commerce of the $10,000 appropriated in the January appropriation sheet for "Advertising Atlanta." The appropriation was made on motion of Alderman J. L. Carpenter.

Payment of $5,000 voted for the Atlanta industrial bureau was deferred until a later meeting on motion of Alderman L. N. Raggsdale, chairman of the water committee of council, who registered vigorous protest against any disbursement from city funds until the present city water rate has been adjusted.

Water Rate Revision. The committee was prevented from going into the question of revising the January finance sheet, as requested by the water committee, by a ruling of Alderman J. R. Buchanan, finance chairman, that the committee could not take up this matter until council has acted on the water committee's request.

The water committee at a session earlier in the week had asked the finance committee to cut $150,000 of appropriations out of the finance sheet in order that the water rate may be reduced. The request is to be reported to council Monday by Alderman Raggsdale with a recommendation that council adopt it. If it is adopted, the finance committee will go into session again for the express purpose of revising the finance sheet to make a water reduction possible.

Alderman Raggsdale opposed making any new appropriations or authorizing payment of appropriations made in the Brooklyn's Highway Woman and "Escort" Invade Bronx, Rob Restaurant.

New York, April 3.—A hold-up bandit, believed to be the daring Brooklyn highway woman wanted by the police for a series of sensational crimes, invaded the Bronx tonight, held up a restaurant keeper and escaped with jewelry and money totaling $100, later looking the victim in his place of business.

Accompanied by her inevitable male companion, a sleek-haired youth in well-fitting clothes, she entered the restaurant of Felix Di Madio, seated herself at a table and ordered dinner. After dining leisurely, the two started for the cashier's desk, where Di Madio, who was alone with them in the place, came forward to receive payment.

As she advanced the girl thrust the muzzle of a small automatic pistol toward Di Madio and held it there while her companion robbed him of jewelry worth $250 and took $150 from the cash register. Smilingly ordering the restaurant man to keep his "mouth shut" if he knew what was best for him, the pair walked out and the girl snapped a padlock on the door. They escaped in a taxi cab.

The hold-up bandit's last previous appearance was last Tuesday when she shot down the cashier of the National Biscuit company's Brooklyn plant as he frustrated her attempt to hold on the place.

IOWA DELEGATES

Connecticut and Maine Name Delegations Favoring Re-election of Coolidge as President.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Davenport, Iowa, April 3.—An Iowa delegation to the democratic national convention in New York declared to be favorable in the main to the presidential candidacy of William G. McAdoo, but uncommitted, was selected by the democratic state convention here today. The convention also named a delegation favorable to the candidacy of Clyde L. Herring, several city delegates pending collection of the normal revenue. The school board's November and December pay rolls of last year, amounting to more than $300,000 were met with borrowed money, which was repaid this year, he said to have made the new loans to the city necessary this year.

Likewise, no mention was made of endorsing candidates for vice president, although a number of delegates desired to put through an honorary resolution on behalf of E. T. Meredith, former secretary of agriculture.

AUGUSTUS THOMAS LOOMS AS WINNER

White Plains, N. Y., April 3.—Augustus Thomas, the dramatist, has apparently been elected delegate to the democratic national convention from the twenty-fifth congressional district, by ten votes, according to tentative figures of the bureau of elections. Early returns indicated Mr. Thomas had been defeated.

In the event his election is assured, it is understood he will make the speech putting Governor Al Smith's name in nomination.

WISCONSIN RETURNS PARTIALLY UNCERTAIN

Milwaukee, Wis., April 3.—Delegates pledged to Senator R. M. La Follette continued to increase their lead as belated returns from Tuesday's election were compiled today. With half the precincts in the state heard from, delegates at large pledged to Senator La Follette emerged with a total of 162,031, and those pledged to President Coolidge with a total of 77,017.

Delegates pledged to Governor Al Smith, of New York, were leading those pledged to William G. McAdoo by a 12,000 majority. The Smith men having a total of 35,234 against 23,287 for McAdoo delegates.

In the contest for district delegates, the first district in the south-eastern corner of the state returned two delegates for President Coolidge.

ARMY AIR COUNSEL
REVEALS GAG ORDER

Assistant Chief of Air Service Told Him To "Stay Away From Committee," He Charges.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Washington, April 3.—The senate Daugherty committee turned its inquiry today upon the war department, and concluded a three-hour session by summoning Secretary Weeks to appear before it tomorrow, with specified documents relating to departmental handling of war fraud cases.

The committee had listened before its summons was issued, to the story of Thomas F. Lane, a legal adviser to the army air service, who said he had been ordered a day or two ago "to stay away from the committee" and then had been dismissed from the service.

Lane said also that papers bearing upon his inquiry into war contracts, which he regarded as his own, were seized by Captain W. F. Voland, assistant chief of the army air service, who issued the "stay away" order.

Were Official Files.

Captain Voland, who was at once summoned before the committee, during sharp interrogation by Senator Wheeler, democrat, Montana, the committee prosecutor, and other members said he regarded Lane's papers as part of the official departmental files. He had turned them over to Secretary Weeks, he said, and the latter had sought an opinion as to their status from the judge advocate general.

Sensor Wheeler, in the terse examination of Captain Voland, charged that the dismissal of Lane and the sequestration of his papers was "intended to cover up" the war department's handling of air fraud cases. The Voland sharply denied this.

The papers, Lane declared, were mainly copies of recommendations he made to the committee, and he was not a party to the procedure the government should take against war contractors. And Voland stated that Secretary Weeks had asked the judge advocate general to give an opinion as to whether such copies were official records.

Admits Own Payment.

His order to Lane "to stay away from the committee," Voland admitted, was issued because the air service wished to "rush" preparations.

Police and Hospital Authorities Unable To Learn Her Name—Driver of Machine Jailed.

A woman whose identity police and hospital authorities have been unable to learn is at the point of death at Grady with a fractured skull and other injuries, the result of being struck down by a heavy motor truck operated by a negro, Ben Milner.

The accident occurred at Piedmont and Auburn avenues about 6:30 o'clock Thursday night. The negro was driving toward town at the time and the injured woman was crossing Auburn avenue, police were told.

Driver Is Held. Sergeant R. J. Brown and G. C. Maddox, who investigated the accident, arrested the negro and are holding him without bond, pending outcome of the woman's injuries.

No papers or other articles could be found in her pocketbook or about her clothing by the police or doctors to indicate her identity. She is apparently between 45 and 50 years of age.

She is described as being five feet three inches tall, with dark brown hair streaked with gray. The only mark by which she might be identified

Washington, April 3.—Taxes on mah jongg and radio sets were voted into the revenue bill tonight by the senate finance committee, which at the same time approved the reduction in automobile taxes and repeal of the candy tax voted by the house.

The gift tax and increase in the estate tax rates voted by the house, however, were knocked out of the bill. The present estate tax rates were restored, but provision was made for a change in the brackets to which they would apply so that the revenue increase of $12,000,000, which would have resulted from the house increase, would be effected.

BRITISH COMPANY
NAMED IN PLOTS

Vickers, Ltd., Arranged Huge Arms Sale to Rebels While U. S. Gave Aid to Obregon.

Mexico City, April 3.—Sensational charges that British interests were backing the De la Huerta revolution have developed in the trial of Eugene Bailey, prominent British business man here, who is under arrest charged with being a secret rebel agent.

It is charged that while the United States was supporting President Chazum and permitting arms shipments to the federalists the powerful British firm of Vickers, Limited, was arranging to sell De la Huerta 30,000,000 cartridges, 50,000 rifles and also machine guns.

Twenty-five per cent of the purchase price was to be paid in cash, it is alleged, and the balance was to go on De la Huerta's note.

Documents Revealed Plan.

The charges were made Thursday when the charges were made Thursday when the documents had been taken from Sir George Thurston, who had appointed Bailey as a representative of Vickers, Limited, here.

Bailey contends that he was an innocent victim of men higher up. He asserts that he was sent on a "wild goose chase" to New York, presumably to handle a commercial matter there and that on his arrival he found Rafael Zubaran, who asked him to act as a go-between in the purchase of arms.

Plot Is Charged.

The case has created a sensation in the Anglo-American colony here as Bailey is prominent socially as well as a leading business man of the city. He is a director of the American club, and belongs to all the important foreign organizations here. Mexican officials declare that his arrest has revealed a widespread plot among British subjects here to aid the rebel cause.

The government has charged the Aguila Oil company, an important British concern owned by Lord Cowdray, with aiding the rebellion, by selling the company's oil to the rebels and also gave the De la Huerta forces the use of some of their tank steamers.

U. S. Participation in Anti-Soviet Revolt, Charged by Two Men, May Blossom Into New Probe.

BRITAIN AND FRANCE
KNOWN AS ACTIVE

Recent Allegations by Scaife and Martin Were First Intimation of Any U. S. Alliance.

BY E. E. MacDONALD.

Washington, April 3.—Thorough investigation of charges that the United States government, acting through the American relief administration, materially aided the Kolchak-Denikin-Yudenitch revolt against the soviet government late in 1919, will be instituted privately by Senator Borah, of Idaho, chairman of the senate Russian committee, the senator said Thursday.

Following statements given by Captain H. L. Scaife, former department of justice agent; James V. Martin, commander of the U. S. S. Lake Fray, a shipping board vessel, which delivered A. R. A. supplies to Reval, Russia, in August, 1919, and Cyril J. Quinn, former shipping manager of the A. R. A., Borah declared his intention thoroughly to sift the mass of contradictory charges.

To Start As Private Probe.

This investigation will start privately, but later, should the facts warrant it, Borah will present the evidence to the senate Russian committee and ask them to act on it. The senator expects to call a meeting of his committee as soon as the other inquiries are due down sufficiently to bring the Russian question to the fore again.

In attacking the amazing series of charges and counter-charges, Borah will inquire particularly into:

1. The alleged conference in Paris between representatives of the United States, Great Britain and France at which a secret compact was said to have been agreed to for the purpose of crushing the soviet government.

Seek Truth of Stories.

2. The charges by Martin that he delivered a ship load of A. R. A. supplies to General Yudenitch in Reval among which were sixty motor trucks which later were used in Yudenitch's abortive offensive against Petrograd.

3. The counter-charge by Quinn that Martin, himself, had attempted to aid the counter-revolutionary forces, but not under instructions from either the United States government, the American relief administration, the American Red Cross, or Secretary of Commerce Hoover, who at that time was head of the relief.

English, French Aid Known.

It has been generally known that France and Great Britain aided the Kolchak counter-revolutionary forces and that Winston Churchill, minister of foreign affairs under Premier Lloyd George, asked for and received a large appropriation from parliament to aid the Kolchak forces. The attitude of France toward Kolchak also was favorable to the extent that she gave material aid.

Until Martin made his charge the United States never had been directly connected with the Kolchak forces, although American troops had been stationed in Archangel and Siberia until late in 1919. The late President Wilson was known to be strongly opposed to the bolshevik regime.

Anti-Feminist Explains Many Ingredients of Woman Suffrage.

New York, April 3.—Woman suffrage has brought in its wake a flock of evils to womankind, including abandonment of decorum and the corset, according to A. B. See, president of the elevator company of that name.

Mr. See, whose views on women gained widespread publicity in November, 1922, when he refused to aid the building fund of a woman's college, today launched another broadside on the subject in a letter to the Lucy Stone league, which advocates women's retention of their maiden names after marriage.

Since the advent of suffrage, he writes, women drink more rum and cocktails and smoke more cigarettes than ever before. They walk the streets staggeringly with beaming faces; they have abandoned corsets and use more cosmetics than ever before.

"When a woman dances with a man," he adds, "she lolls on his shoulders and tries to sit on his hips."

Young girls, the letter says, have become insolent to their parents; heartless and brutal and brazen in their demeanor at school.

Voting of women, she continued, had increased election costs and added to the slum vote. Married women, he declared, were suffragettes as a protest against the inefficiency of their husbands; spinsters, because it gave them something of a solace in their loneliness.

"Our nation," said Mr. See, "has a new nuisance to contend with—the nuisance of women's political clubs. These are managed by idle women. Satan still finds mischief for idle hands to do."

SHIP BOARD FIGHT

CENTERS IN HOUSE

Shipping Interests Favor

Resolution To Postpone

Enforcement of Act Until

July 1, 1925.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Washington, April 3.—Enforcement of section 28 of the merchant marine act, which would provide for preferential railroad freight rates on products carried in American vessels, was opposed and advocated before the house merchant marine committee today.

Representative of shipping interests endorsed a resolution introduced in the house today by Representative Newton, republican, Minnesota, to defer enforcement of the section to July 1, 1925, instead of May 29, 1924, as ordered by the shipping committee.

Commissioner Thompson, of the shipping board, opposed the resolution and also the bill, previously introduced by Mr. Newton, which would make enforcement by the commission of the section optional instead of mandatory.

Charge Discrimination. Opponents of the section declared enforcement would discriminate in favor of some ports at the expense of others as the shipping board did not have sufficient tonnage to handle exportable produce. Commissioner Thompson contended that the board did have sufficient tonnage to handle consignments to ports that would be affected by the commission's order.

Mr. Thompson said postponing enforcement, as advocated by the shipping interests, pending an investigation of the effect the section might have on commerce, would not be satisfactory.

"If we don't get the benefit of section 28," Mr. Thompson said, "before the new fiscal year goes into effect there will be a forced reduction in operation of American flagships."

George H. Inghalls, vice president of the New York Central railroad testified as an individual, declared operation of the section's provisions would tend to divert much freight over Canadian railroads even if adequate American tonnage were available. He said an exporter would prefer a port, even if rates were the same, where he was not compelled to use out American ships.

William C. Dutton, representing independent fruit interests, said the shipping board did not have sufficient tonnage nor the kind of vessels needed for all commerce.

COOLIDGE CONDEMNED

President, Personally, Is Assigned Role of Moses To Lead Way Out of Sea of Oily Muck.

BY RAYMOND CLAPPER.

Washington, April 3.—Republicans have opened the defense against the scandal disclosures by seeking to establish at the outset of the presidential campaign the premise that admitted mistakes during the last four years were due to unfortunate appointments by the late President Harding.

He made a few serious mistakes, but he is gone and now we have Coolidge. That is the burden of this plea.

This keynote was sounded by Senator George Wharton Pepper, of Pennsylvania, opening the republican state convention at Portland, Maine, Thursday.

Pepper Is Leader.

Pepper has become one of the leaders in the republican councils since Coolidge entered the white house and he is recognized now as one of the power-makers in the national organization. For this reason, his Portland address is attracting unusual attention.

Representative Longworth, of Ohio, majority leader of the house, delivered a political address at Philadelphia Thursday night, praising Coolidge as the type of leader suited to present needs. Longworth complained of the senate's failure to enact important legislation and expressed satisfaction that the house has done as well as it has, considering the slender republican majority.

Taking these two speeches together, it is apparent that the republican party intends to use Coolidge rather than congress, as the chief draft horse of the campaign.

Congress Record No Good. The record of congress contains few selling points for the republican campaign. They are therefore compelled to concentrate upon the merits of Coolidge, who has the added advantage of not being responsible for the appointments which have led to most of the administration's grief.

Meanwhile Coolidge's advisors, confident of his nomination, are considering the slender republican majority.

Rescue Party Battles Way Over Mountain Passes to Relief of Maryland Villagers.

Oakland, Md., April 3.—Pneumonia and typhoid, following in the wake of a cow and flood, threaten the little mountain town of Kittimann, Md., as relief parties struggle through snow-belted mountain passes toward the inundated town, situated on the bottom lands of the Potomac river.

Led by B. A. Harlan, of the local Red Cross chapter, and the county commissioner of Garrett county, Md., a relief party now is on the way to the stricken town, and is expected to arrive with food, condensed milk and fuel early Friday morning.

Meanwhile the suffering was described as intense by Harlan, who struggled over mountain passes Wednesday night with milk for the babies and old people of the town.

He found ten dwellings completely demolished and 30 others wrecked beyond recognition. Gas, sewer and water mains are broken and highways and bridge leading to the town have been swept away or are impassable.

A corps of nurses is being organized at Piedmont, W. Va., by Miss Margaret L. East, Red Cross field representative for West Virginia, and they will go into the town with medical supplies Friday morning.

Washington, April 3.—A veiled attack on President Coolidge for permitting the resignation of Secretary of the Navy Denby and requesting the resignation of Daugherty while those two officials were under fire is contained in the latest issue of the National Republican, official organ of the republican national committee.

Marking significantly that it "is not the organ of any candidacy, presidential or other kind," the Republican declares it "has some firm convictions about the principles involved in the fate of the two cabinet officers."

"It is a source of much regret to the National Republican," the editorial says, "that the courage which has been shown in the ranks of the republican party in the face of the recent and present attacks upon the republican administration has been and is confined almost exclusively to the individuals most directly attacked. It is a source of regret that these attacks, which are meant to discredit the entire republican administration, and which are intended to wreck the republican party itself, have had to be repelled by a small but grimly determined company of individual republicans instead of by the full strength of a party leadership and membership unified by party loyalty."

"People generally have been surprised to see panic prevalent in the ranks of those whose duty, as republican leaders, has been to stand up and fight. Above all else the people admire courage in leadership."

COOLIDGE MAY NAME SANDLIN U. S. JUDGE

Washington, April 3.—Appointment by President Coolidge of John N. Sandlin, a democratic member of the house, as federal judge for the western district of Louisiana appeared probable today after the president had held a number of conferences on the matter. The vacancy was caused by the death of Judge George W. Backs. The president in seeking a new judge for the Louisiana district conferred with Emile Kuntz, republican national committeeman from the state. Senators Randall and Brown

Federal Judge R. F. Foster, of the eastern Louisiana district; Rush L. Holland, assistant attorney general, and finally had a talk with Representative Sandlin. Mr. Kuntz urged the selection of a republican and during his visit to the executive offices the name of Judson P. Grimmett, of Shreveport, was brought under consideration. Senators Randall and Brown renewed their endorsement of Representative Sandlin, telling the president no republican satisfactory to the people of the western district had been brought forward. Judge Foster was consulted because the western district judge often is called upon to assist Judge Foster with the heavier work of the eastern district. Representative Sandlin, called to the white house by the president, declined to discuss his visit. White house officials indicated tonight that the nomination of the new judge would be sent within a few days to the senate.

Selman and three clerks are also under bond charged with violation of national prohibition laws.

GUARDS ON BORDER WATCH FOR HUERTA

El Paso, April 3.—Mexican officers along the border are keeping an eye out for Adolfo de la Huerta, former chief of the rebellion, now reported to be in the United States. It was learned in Juarez today. Reports that the former "first chief" had abandoned his headquarters at Frontera, Tabasco, and slipped secretly to Key West, and thence to New York, generally were credited; also that De la Huerta had arrived in New York with adherents who are now fugitives and living in Texas, New Mexico and Arizona border towns.

COMMISSION URGES PARK AT YORKTOWN

Washington, April 3.—Secretary Weeks sent to congress today the report of the national military park commission recommending the establishment of a national park at Yorktown, Va., and requesting an initial appropriation of $100,000 for the project. The park would include the larger part, if not all, of the 1,100 acres comprising the battleground and part of Yorktown itself. Congressional approval will be sought to give the commission power to develop the project. The commission is headed by Seward W. Jones, of Boston; J. Kerr Branch, of Richmond, Va.; and Mrs. James T. Morris, of Minneapolis, and was appointed by the war secretary at the direction of congress.

Sparks Circus Will Bring Big Array of Wild Animals

Sparks circus, which shows today and Saturday at Spiller's Park, is expected to exhibit one of the largest groups of wild animals known to the circus world. The picture shows a typical act in which bears, lions, tigers, elephants and other wild animals take part.

Ten thousand pounds of bear meat, and every pound strong, virile, and pulsating with life, form a part of the performing wild animal group that is an outstanding feature of Sparks circus, which appears in Atlanta today and Saturday. And all of those 10,000 pounds will take part in the street parades at 10:30 o'clock this morning and at the same hour Saturday. Circus performances will begin at 2 and 8 o'clock.

The group of performing polar bears alone, it is claimed, is worth more than the entire menagerie of some circuses. An estimate of the value of the group can be obtained from the fact that a polar bear rug costs from $1,500 up. The shaggy giants, because of the education which has developed a remarkable degree of intelligence, are of course worth much more than that figure. Bolivar, the largest of the group, and claimed to be the largest polar bear in the world, is valued at between $4,000 and $5,000.

The bears, which wrestle with human beings, perform with such docile animals as Shetland ponies and dogs, and each takes part in the museum, wild animal acts on the program.

The circus will exhibit at Spiller's park, opposite the baseball grounds, Monday of J. R. French, of Oklahoma City, Okla., and Robert F. Wolfe, of Columbus, editor of The Ohio State Journal. Both will be questioned today by the senate court at the republican national convention in 1920.

CONVICT WHO FLED PRISON HERE SLAIN

Montreal, April 3.—Attempts to force the release through habeas corpus proceedings of two of the nine prisoners held as suspects in the sensational $142,288 robbery of the money car of the Bank of Hochelaga last Tuesday were frustrated by the justice today, who declared that evidence already gathered involved seven men and two women in custody in the holding.

Hourly, they said, new evidence was received implicating the captives in the daring robbery, in which one bandit and a bank employee were killed, and a second bank employee was seriously wounded. Minor charges have been placed against the prisoners, and high bail has been fixed in each case, that they might be held in prison pending completion of the chain of evidence.

Harry Stone, whose body was found in the bandit car which was wrecked against a telephone pole as the robbers fled, has a long international career as a narcotic smuggler, the authorities said today. He was said to be a Canadian citizen, and was forfeiting $100,000 bail, after his arrest several years ago on a smuggling charge. He also was said to have been arrested in Seattle, Wash., after a sensational dash over the Canadian border, with a consignment of narcotics. He had a record of 14 arrests under twelve aliases since 1909, they said.

Stone, the police said, escaped from the federal penitentiary at Atlanta in May, 1922, after serving six months of a year term. He was sentenced in New York, after his capture at Massena Springs with $400,000 worth of narcotics which had been smuggled over the Canadian border. Stone, an officers at the time said Stone had offered them a large roll of bills, with a promise to later double it, if they would release him. His trial a few months later was held in a court room filled with armed deputies, who anticipated an attempt by his accomplices to rescue him.

Warden Sartain stated Thursday night that he was not in charge of the prison here at the time of Stone's escape, and as the records at the prison were locked up for the night, no information could be obtained.

Quality Foods Make Happy Homes IS YOURS ONE OF THEM?

Very few would admit it because the guilty are not conscious of it themselves, but we believe that unsatisfactory, unwholesome and otherwise unsatisfactory foods are the primary cause of more sickness in the home than any other one thing, unless it is "sloppy" coffee, and they go together.

The family that is well nourished may at times have little differences, but generally they are happy and have no friction, and when account is taken of the fact that it is more than likely that QUALITY FOODS are entitled to the credit because a well-nourished person is usually happy and only quality foods count.

ORDER ROUND-UP OF LEISURE CLASS

A round-up of the leisure class of Atlanta's darktown population is in progress with a special "vagrancy" squad of police making a drive into every known loafing place in darktown. It was announced Thursday by Alderman Jesse W. Armistead, member of the police committee of council. The drive is part of the effort of council and the city administration to recruit the city construction department labor gangs up to effective strength. The department has been running short-handed for common labor for several weeks.

Chief of Construction William A. Hansell announced that common labor could be paid 25 cents an hour instead of 20 cents as heretofore, following approval by Councilman C. D. Knight, street committee chairman, and Alderman J. R. Bachman, finance committee chairman. Chief Hansell said the new scale would go into effect today and probably would help considerably in getting more "free" labor on the streets.

Recorder George F. Johnson will be asked to mete out the maximum penalty to vagrants brought into his court, giving them sentences in the stockade where they will be available for use on the streets, if they are not able to offer satisfactory evidence that they are employed.

STONE URGES VOTERS TO FIGHT RED THREAT

Warren S. Stone, grand chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, in a speech at the Woman's club auditorium Thursday night made a plea for good citizenship on the part of voters in order to counteract the threat of revolution by the red element. He pointed the horrors of a government's downfall and insisted that the stability of our nation lay in the hands of the voters.

Mr. Stone, who arrived in Atlanta Thursday morning en route to Miami in company with John F. Welch, editor of the "Engineers' Journal," where they will attend the southeastern division convention, spent a busy day here. He addressed the four engineer divisions and the women's auxiliaries in the Red Men's hall at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon. At 7:30 o'clock he spoke in the Woman's club auditorium.

Mr. Stone was introduced Thursday night by Mayor Walter Sims and welcomed to the city by Governor Clifford Walker.

The organization of which he is the head is the only international brotherhood, he said, that, by unanimous vote, declared in favor of prohibition on a nationwide scale.

He said that $192,000,000 in insurance is carried by its members and that $45,000,000 in loans had been paid since the brotherhood was organized 47 years ago.

The brotherhood controls and operates nine banks. The Cooperative National bank of Cleveland, one of that number, was the first operated by a labor organization to issue a bank note.

FRUSTRATED BANDITS LEAVE CAR IN FLIGHT

Two alleged hold-up men Thursday night abandoned their automobile and escaped after pedestrians had interrupted their attempt to rob W. D. Mathis, whose address has not been learned. Their arrest is expected today, as officers claim to know their identity.

According to the story told by Mathis, he was walking in front of 210 Decatur street, when the men jumped out of a car parked near the curb and assaulted him, one of them wielding a short piece of lead pipe. He was knocked to the ground, but several pedestrians interfered before the bandits could search him. Both men fled down Decatur street, and their machine was confiscated by Motorcycle Officers Harbin and Milam, to be held at police station pending apprehension of the owners.

Mathis' injuries were treated at Grady hospital, after which he was allowed to go home. He told officers that he knew the names of his assailants, and that as far as he knew, robbery was their only motive.

Erwin S. Barrie Tells of Plans For Art Exhibit

Atlanta as the true southern art center, an objective toward which a march will be started by the exhibit of rare paintings at the Hotel Biltmore here in May, was envisioned by a group of Atlanta men and women who met at luncheon Thursday to hear details of the enterprise.

Erwin S. Barrie, manager of the Grand Central Art Galleries, in New York, was principal speaker of the occasion and in his talk he not only outlined the motives of the organization he represents, but told something of what Atlanta may expect at the first of the large exhibits in May. He declared that approximately 200 works of leading living American artists would be displayed, with a practically equal number of pieces of sculpture, and that at least a dozen of the nation's foremost artists, and critics would be present at the same time.

Haverly Presides.
J. J. Haverly, chairman of the art committee of the chamber of commerce, who is also a member of the Grand Central Art organization, presided over the meeting.

Paul Norcross, president of the chamber of commerce, outlined the growth of the idea which finally resulted in the arrangement to bring the large exhibit here for Atlanta's first real art exhibit of major proportions—and incidentally what promises to be the largest and most complete display ever held outside of New York and Chicago.

Support of the score or more people who attended the dinner, representing various lines of the light and industry in the city, was pledged to Mr. Haverly and the other leaders in the movement, and it was the consensus of opinion that the initial exhibit, through the courtesy and cooperation of the Grand Central Galleries, would initiate a cultural movement in Atlanta which would approach, if not equal, the influence which the annual visit of the Metropolitan grand opera company to Atlanta has had on the life of the community.

Priceless Art Works.
The exhibit will take place at the Biltmore hotel, the management of which has offered to act as host, May 17 to 31, inclusive, and will bring to Atlanta a collection of painting and sculpture the value of which can scarcely be estimated, since there will be many works of art practically priceless which will come here, fully protected and insured against the slightest risk.

Others who made brief talks at the luncheon Thursday were John W. Grant, G. F. Willis, Robert L. Foreman, Frank Lowenstein, John S. Cohen, James B. Nevin, J. M. R. Hoxsey, Mrs. Samuel Inman, Mrs. J. K. Utley, Mrs. Wilmer L. Moore and Miss Frances Newmann.

A great number of social features in addition to the actual art exhibit are being planned for the two weeks during which the exhibit will be in Atlanta.

$19,275,866 SPENT ON GEORGIA SCHOOLS

A total of $19,275,866 was spent on the schools of Georgia in 1923, counting funds received from all sources, according to figures given out Thursday by Dr. N. B. Ballard, state superintendent of schools. This includes money provided by the state, by city, county and district taxation, by bond issues and from tuition fees. The money was expended on teachers' salaries, construction of new buildings, supplies and set expenses of various kinds.

Salaries paid to white teachers totaled $8,877,450; salaries to colored teachers, $1,390,082. Cost of new buildings and repairs for white schools was $3,212,588, while the same funds for negro schools totaled $988,072. Equipment for schools of all kinds cost $3,339,981.

The state appropriation for common schools in 1923 was $1,236,225; county taxes amounted to $3,543,025; and the district local tax netted $1,401,800. Bonds and loans amounted to $3,295,663. There were in addition a few other minor sources of revenue.

One Miner Slain, Another Wounded By Hill Snipers

Pineville, Ky., April 3.—One man was killed and one other known to have been wounded when miners of the Liberty Coal and Coke company, at Straight Creek, were fired upon late today, reports here said.

George Lucas, from across the line in Virginia, was killed instantly. Edward Dishman, Liberty, Va., was brought to a hospital here with a bullet wound in his leg. Only two men were believed to have been struck. It was estimated riflemen fired 500 shots from the mountainside.

Eviction notices recently had been posted to all residents of the Liberty company's mining camps who refused to work under the present scale. The company obtained an injunction this week prohibiting interference with mine operations or molestation of company employees.

Company officials disclosed today that recently workers were fired upon as they approached the mines, but added no one was hurt. The company is operating on an open-shop basis, using the 1917 union wage scale.

RARE COLLECTION OF OLD VIOLINS ON EXHIBIT HERE

What is said to be one of the finest and largest exhibitions of rare violins ever shown in Atlanta is now being given at the Cable Piano company's store. These exhibitions have been an annual event.

The instruments shown are a part of the famous collection of John Friedrich & Brother, of New York.

The various schools of Italian art are here shown, the Cremonese, by Ruggeri, the type of Amati and early Stradivari-Bergonzi, by whom an almost flawless example can be seen. The Milanese school is represented by fine specimens by Guaragnone, Lanzetta, and Manierati. A beautiful violin by Francesco Gabetti, of Venice; Custodius Gagliardi, of Liburni; Vincent Panormo, of Palermo, and also several of the more modern Italian school, such as Antonio Pedrinelli of Cremona; Pressenda, of Turin, and Merighi, of Parma, show the various types followed by these makers.

There are many fine English, French and German instruments, also a collection of rare old bows.

ALLEGED SLAYER OF FIVE IS GIVEN ANOTHER TRIAL

Florence, S. C., April 3.—Edmund D. Bigham, for three years under sentence of death for the slaying of five members of his family, today was granted a new trial by Judge John S. Wilson in circuit court here. The case was carried on appeal four times to the supreme court of South Carolina, finally resulting in an order for a hearing on the motion for a new trial.

Bigham, indicted for the murder of his mother, Mrs. Amelia Bigham, widow of a former state senator, his sister, Mrs. Marjorie Black, and two small adopted children of the latter, was convicted for the murder of his brother, L. Smiley Bigham, which automatically carried the sentence of electrocution. He was taken to the state penitentiary in Columbia in 1921, when his attorneys began the fight for a second trial.

SHRINE PILGRIMAGE TO ATHENS ARRANGED

Potentate Charles A. Bowen, the big shiek of Yaarab temple, has completed plans and arrangements for the pilgrimage of Shrines of this oasis to the neighboring oasis of Athens, where a big ceremonial session will be held April 16, the day's festivities to close with a Shrine vaudeville show and dance at night.

While the Athens Shrine club will drum up most of the nervous novices for the ceremonial session, the gates are wide open for candidate for any other section of Yaarab temple's jurisdiction, too. All applications must be in the possession of Recorder Armand, 190 Peachtree street, Atlanta, by the evening of April 10.

The business meeting to elect candidates will be held at Shrine headquarters in Atlanta April 12. Those who survive will report to Recorder Armand at the Seaboard Air Line station in Athens at noon (Eastern time), April 10.

The Seaboard Air Line will run a special train of Pullman cars for the Yaarab special, leaving Atlanta Terminal station at 8:30 a. m., April 10, and arriving in Athens at noon (Eastern time).

The train will be parked near the station and ladies and novices may retire when they desire.

On arrival in Athens a parade will form at the station and march up through the city, disbanding in front of the Georgia hotel. A barbecue will be served under cover at 1 o'clock and the ceremonial session will be held in the opera house beginning at 2 o'clock. At 5 o'clock the parade will put on an exhibition drill in the center of the city.

A vaudeville show will be given in the opera house at 8:15 o'clock, featuring the "Million Dollar band," with Noble Entoria, Louis as conductor; the Yaarab chorists under direction of Noble Frank Cundell; the Oriental band will put on an entertaining diversion, featuring the entire Oriental band, assisted by Miss Anna Mae Coleman and six of her dancing girls.

A dance will be given for the novices and ladies directly after the vaudeville show.

POLICE LOCATE "MISSING GIRL" IN EAST POINT

Miss Cora Roberts, 18, of Decatur, who, it was feared, had met with serious injury or foul play due to her absence of two weeks from home, was found Thursday night in East Point after local police began a search at the request of a brother-in-law, W. A. Brooks.

Brooks told the police Miss Roberts had left the Decatur home about two weeks ago for her former home in Grayson, but had never reached her destination.

One of Miss Roberts' sisters knew she was in East Point, having had several telephone communications from her, but did not know of the anxiety of the brother-in-law, it is said.

Why Are You Gray?

Science tells us that hair turns gray when for any reason it fails to receive the proper amount of pigment or coloring matter from the cells in the scalp. No matter what the cause of the grayness, it is amazing to see how quickly it disappears when the clear, colorless liquid known as Kolor-Bak is used.

Gray hair, of any former color, is quickly restored to its exact original shade by applying Kolor-Bak, which is a true substitute for the natural pigmentation. Results often appear in a week.

"My Hair Was Quite Gray"
"Only a short time ago my hair was quite gray and becoming grayer. It was falling out. My scalp itched and was very sore. Only a few applications of Kolor-Bak stopped the itching and dandruff. My hair soon stopped coming out. Most wonderful of all, however, is that my hair is again its original color. I look ten years younger."
(A typical letter.)

Kolor-Bak costs you nothing unless results are satisfactory. Made by Hygienic Laboratories, Chicago, Illinois.

The committee also granted authority to Mrs. N. L. Barker to convert her residence on Cleburne avenue into an apartment house.

MOB KILLS NEGRO BOY WHO SHOT POLICEMAN

Woodbury, Ga., April 3.—(Special.)—Albert Wells, chief of police here, is believed to be dying at an Atlanta hospital from a bullet wound in his head, and Beach Thrash, 15, negro boy, is now dead at the hands of a crowd of men, the result of the alleged shooting of the officer by the negro.

The boy is said to have confessed the shooting, which he said occurred when Wells arrested him at the Peoples Bank of Woodbury on charges of taking money.

Reports were that the boy had been suspected of taking money from the bank for several days. The bank closes during the noon hour, and the negro was thought to have entered then.

Wells is said to have entered the bank to watch. The negro came in and took money, Wells says. The officer arrested him, and when the telephone of the bank rang, the man is said to have laid his gun aside. The negro grabbed it and shot the officer, it is reported.

He was arrested and lodged in jail here. A crowd of men broke the jail, took the negro towards Flint river and killed him before he could be moved by officials to Meriwether county jail.

Albert Wells, police chief of Woodbury, Ga., was lying at the point of death at Davis-Fischer hospital early tonight, after being rushed here from Woodbury, Ga. Officials stated that he could not recover. The bullet entered the forehead just above the right eye, penetrated the brain and came out the back of the man's head, they stated. The man is said to have been shot by Beach Thrash, young negro.

Holtzendorf, who served two terms in that office.

Loving cups and banners were awarded champions of the Epworth league baseball leagues, and certificates of honor were given to 130 members who satisfactorily completed courses in the annual Epworth League Union Efficiency Institute held during March at Wesley Memorial church.

WARMER WEATHER PROMISED TODAY; SHOWERS LIKELY

Warmer weather is promised Atlanta today by C. F. von Herrmann, official weather forecaster for this territory. In all probability the rising temperature will be accompanied by rain. The increasing cloudiness began to put in its appearance Thursday night.

There is a moderate disturbance noted over western Texas and the spread of this area of unsettled weather is bringing April showers Atlanta-wards.

The thermometer showed a much more seasonable condition Thursday morning than has been the case for several days. At 7 o'clock Thursday morning it read 38 degrees in place of the 20 degrees of Wednesday morning and the 34 of Tuesday. It will probably go as high as 45 degrees or more on Friday, said Mr. von Herrmann.

REV. J. HARMON SPEAKS AT HOLMES INSTITUTE

Rev. John Harmon, candidate for editor of the Southern Christian Recorder, delivered the first of a series of addresses to the students of the Holmes institute Wednesday morning in the college chapel.

"The great problem which should be solved among the young colored people who are attending schools and colleges is cleanliness," he said. "Sanitary conditions and unventilated houses have done more to increase the death rate and spread contagious diseases in the city than any other agency."

Rev. B. R. Holmes, president, said the Holmes institute does not allow any student to attend school who does not learn a useful trade aside from the regular studies.

150 CASES HANDLED BY HUMANE SOCIETY

Nearly 150 cases were handled by the Fulton county branch of the Georgia Humane society during March involving 3,600 animals and 140 fowls, according to an announcement just made by Mrs. D. W. Totten, secretary of the organization.

Field officers have instructed a number of drivers in the care of stock, feeding, watering and harnessing animals. Investigations resulted in two horses being shot, twelve horses and mules being sent to barns, thirty-two dogs and cats being placed in homes, thirty-seven horses and mules being treated and fifty-three dogs and cats being killed.

Councilman C. D. Knight, chairman of the streets committee, of which Councilman Dyer was a member, announced that the time of the committee meeting would be postponed until 4:30 o'clock this afternoon to permit attendance at the funeral.

The police committee meeting, postponed from Wednesday night in respect to the deceased member, will be held Monday night, after the trial of Chief James L. Reavers, it was announced by Chairman Edward H. Inman.

The flag at city hall was flying at half-mast Thursday in tribute to Mr. Dyer.

"In business big, or business little" The linoleum floor saves money in floor costs

HERE is what the Building Maintenance Manager of one of the largest corporations in America says. We can quote his words, but not his name. There is a company rule against it.

"We use linoleum floors in this building, and in all our buildings in the different cities. We wax these floors. Every building uses the same waxing methods, the same wax, and the same type of polishing machines. Some of our linoleum floors have been down for twenty-five years. Once as an experiment we tried a floor without wax. Samples of waxed linoleum that had been down six years showed less wear than the unwaxed linoleum showed after six months."

"Why? Because when the wax is rubbed in thoroughly, the thin film on the surface protects the linoleum. Dust sticks lightly to this surface instead of flying up to collect on furniture and apparatus. A daily going over with a hair broom takes it right up. The entire monthly cleaning and waxing cost was about a quarter of a cent per square foot."

Note: On request, we will gladly furnish full directions and specifications for waxing floors of Armstrong's Linoleum in any business or public building.

From a man in small business

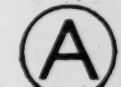

"When I went into the restaurant business, I put in Armstrong's Linoleum floors from kitchen to dining-room. Regular waxing and daily wiping with an almost dry mop keeps it smiling and as neat as a pin. Customers troop in with wet feet, with dripping umbrellas. They drop matches, cigarettes, paper, and food on the floor. It all cleans up easier than any floor I know of."

Talk to your merchant or write to us

Your architect, contractor, or any good linoleum merchant can give you information on the economy of linoleum floors and their low upkeep cost. You can select a business floor of Armstrong's Linoleum from many colors and designs—plain colors, Jaspés (two-tone effects), tile inlays, marble inlays, parquetry inlays, and border combinations—in keeping with any type of business fixtures or appointments.

Our 48-page illustrated booklet, "Business Floors," will be sent you on request. It shows colorplates of Armstrong's Linoleum and gives information regarding laying linoleum floors and their care.

HARD BLOW GIVEN HOUSE TAX CUTS

Washington, April 3.—Announcement today by Chairman Smoot, of the senate finance committee, that some special appropriation bills pending before congress would have to be considered in connection with tax reduction dealt a severe blow to the chances of retention of some of the tax cuts made by the house in the revenue bill.

Bills calling for aggregate appropriations of almost $6,000,000,000 are pending, and some have been passed by either the house or senate. These appropriations would be in addition to the expenditures estimated by the budget bureau on which the surplus of $395,000,000 available for tax reductions in the next fiscal year was estimated by the treasury.

Bonus Bill Assured.
Mr. Smoot is preparing a list of probable extra expenditures which he thinks will have to be taken care of by the revenue bill now under consideration. In this he would include, he said, the soldier bonus bill, which it is estimated will cost a maximum of $125,000,000 in the first year of operation. Mr. Smoot has said there were enough votes in the senate to override a presidential veto on the bonus bill.

Reductions in the tax bill already agreed to by the finance committee include $222,000,000 in the income tax rates by abolishing the Mellon plan; $25,000,000 in their admission taxes, and about $65,000,000 in reductions on earned incomes.

Again Considers Bill.
The total reductions estimated to have been made by the bill passed by the house were $436,270,000.

The committee again took up consideration of the other rate schedule in the bill, but today after concluding this morning the hearing of Secretary Mellon who opposed the increase in the estate tax voted by the house, this increase, it was estimated, would raise $12,000,000 additional revenue annually.

Complete Data Asked.
Among the bills requiring special appropriations in the next fiscal year which either have passed the senate or house or are being strongly advocated are: Pensions, $57,000,000; bonus, $135,000,000; McNary-Haugen relief, $18,000,000 to $20,000,000; postal employees' salary increases, $15,000,000; German food relief, $10,000,000 and good roads, $85,000,000.

Complete data on the amount of reductions allowed in the revenue bill as framed to date by the senate committee and the estimated amount of revenue needed next year by the government has been asked for.

New estimates on the cost of the soldier bonus bill passed by the house, based on revised figures, as to the number of veterans entitled to benefits under the bill, also are being prepared.

HARDING SADDLED WITH ALL BLAME

ering the organization and platform for the Cleveland convention, the committee on arrangements of the republican national committee met at Cleveland April 30 to select a temporary chairman. Senator Borah is being seriously considered for this honor, which is one of unusual importance. Many republicans feel that Borah could make an appeal to the western states. Others being considered are former Senator Albert B. Beveridge of Indiana, Senator George Wharton Pepper of Pennsylvania, Governor Hyde of Missouri and former Governor Lowden of Illinois.

Admits To Retire.
Consideration also is being given to the question of a new national chairman, it being understood that John T. Adams expects to retire at the convention. William M. Butler, Coolidge's personal representative, would be the probable choice except for the fact that he intends to run for the United States senate in Massachusetts. C. H. Hanson, secretary to President Coolidge, is also being mentioned.

Although the drafting of the platform nominally rests with the resolutions committee selected at the convention, the probability is that Coolidge will write it himself. His faculty for writing short, concise and striking documents is expected to produce one of the shortest party platforms in the history of the party. It is known that he regards the usual republican platform as too long-winded and wordy. He believes that the principal as for which he wishes to stand can be set down in brief form which will insure their being more widely studied.

DAUGHERTY DENIES HE IS LIABLY

Washington, April 3.—Harry M. Daugherty declared in a brief statement tonight that he would prepare and make public tomorrow an answer to the address of Senator Pepper, republican, Pennsylvania, at Portland, Maine, today in which the senator said the "selection" of Mr. Daugherty as attorney general seems to me to have been a grave error of judgment.

"I do not propose," Mr. Daugherty said, "to be made an issue in the coming campaign except for the benefit of the republican party as a beneficiary of my administration of the public business in the department of justice."

COLQUITT MAN SOUGHT ON SLAYING CHARGE

Moultrie, Ga., April 3.—E. B. Washington is being hunted on a charge of murder in connection with the fatal shooting of Fred Jackson at Elberton, Tuesday, 14 miles east of Moultrie. Washington fled immediately after the shooting and the sheriff and his deputies have been unable to find any trace of his whereabouts. It is alleged that Washington fired on Jackson without warning, although they previously had had trouble.

INTEREST MOUNTS IN ALLIANCE HERE FOR YOUNG WOMEN

Interest in the newly formed Atlanta branch of the Woman's Southern Educational Alliance is mounting rapidly, and the gathering of data preparatory to opening the local office is progressing smoothly, according to reports of the executive committee at a meeting Thursday night at the home of Mrs. Samuel Luman, president of the Atlanta branch. A large number of applications for membership have been made voluntarily, and the drive now under way is expected to fill the membership quota.

The office of the alliance, which was formed to assist young women of the south in every possible way, will not be opened for public service until fall, as it is expected that six months will be required in the gathering of the necessary data. Members are gathering information along three lines, those regarding occupational opportunities for young women in Georgia, regarding educational opportunities for young women, and of student aid and scholarship funds available in assisting the women.

A trail of scattered bananas upon the pavement Thursday morning ended at the scene of a wreck of a produce truck driven by Roy Colbert, of 829 Marietta street, which overturned at Myxson and DeKalb avenues and struck a touring car operated by a negro, Anthony Barnes.

Mrs. Robertson injured. Mrs. Maude Robertson, who is in charge of the linen room at the Aragon hotel, was slightly injured Thursday night when knocked down by an auto truck, driven by an unidentified white man, at Capitol avenue and Fremont street.

She told police that she was standing on the curb waiting for a street car when the truck swerved suddenly toward her, striking a suitcase she had in her hand. The force of the blow knocked her to the pavement, causing minor cuts and bruises.

Mrs. W. L. Wilson, of 51 Cone street, also suffered minor hurts when the car in which she was riding, which was driven by her husband, was struck by a machine driven by J. L. Bell, of 5 Lyons avenue, Spring street near Baker Thursday morning. No cases were made.

REQUISITION PAPERS ISSUED FOR MEHOUT

Richmond, Va., April 3.—Governor Trinkle late today issued requisition papers for Frank Mehout, alias Joseph Schreck, alleged train robber, and his wife, Albing, who are held by New Mexico authorities. Two state officers left tonight for Santa Fe to seek to bring the pair back for the action of Virginia courts.

Mehout, officers charge, robbed the express and baggage car of a Norfolk & Western train of $37,000 at Kenmore, Va., last December. His wife is accused of receiving the stolen money.

The committee, however, did vote $3,000 more money to the health department to continue its smallpox vaccination crusade for two weeks longer and to provide operating supplies for the contagious disease hospital, which Dr. J. P. Kennedy, city health officer, said is now full of smallpox patients.

Epidemic on Decline.
The smallpox epidemic is sharply on the decline at present, Dr. Kennedy told the committee, although new cases are coming to the attention of the department every day. The number of new cases each day was decidedly smaller during the last week than for several weeks past, he said. More than 25,000 persons have been vaccinated during the crusade, he reported, and vaccinations are continuing at a rate of 800 to 900 each day. An appropriation of $949 for a new elevator and pit for the console of the organ at the city auditorium was approved by the committee by a vote of 5 to 4 after the committee had first voted it down and then reconsidered approving the appropriation.

Savannah, Ga., April 3.—(Special.) William H. Lloyd, negro operating the elevator in the Federal building here, deliberately placed his hand in the heavy iron door of the cage and received severe injuries to save a little 3-year-old white child from being injured today.

The child, playing in the corridor while its mother wrote a postcard, reached the elevator and placed its hand in the opening. The operator, seeing the danger, thrust his own hand in, receiving the smashing weight of the iron door and saved the tot. His hand was crushed.

MIAMI HARBOR NEEDS ENLARGEMENT, BEACH

Washington, April 3.—Major General Beach, chief of the army engineers, told the house committee today that Miami (Florida) harbor should be enlarged to 500 feet width and 25 feet depth at a total cost of $1,000,000.

General Beach pointed out that Miami is the only outlet of an enormous and ever more active hinterland, that its importance as a port of call is ever increasing and that the dimensions of the channel severely impede trade.

Representative Sears, democrat, Florida, applied the scheme outlined by General Beach, stressing the great development of Miami in the last decade and predicting that if helped by congress, Miami in the next 10 years would become "the New York of the South."

Baltimore Church Is Found Afire After M.E. Parley

Baltimore, Md., April 3.—Five alarms were sounded in quick succession at midnight when Harlem Park Methodist Episcopal church caught fire about midnight. The Methodist Episcopal church is holding its annual conference in the building and had adjourned only about an hour when the entire first floor was found ablaze.

Transformation in Palestine Described by Dr. Silverman

A vivid description of the transformation that has taken place in Palestine, a magnificent tribute to the Jewish settlers who have rebuilt the desolate and reclaimed the waste places and a word of homage for the league of nations and the British protectorate in the holy land, was given Thursday night at the Standard club by Dr. Joseph Silverman, one of the foremost Hebrew scholars in America and an authority on international Judaism. The address was given in aid of the financial drive in behalf of the Jewish Palestine foundation fund, which gets under way today.

In addition to Dr. Silverman, Dr. Isaac Carmel, of New York, field secretary of the Zionist organization, described the European situation as it relates to Jews and the cultural and ethical aspects of the new colonies in Palestine.

Denounces Zangwill.

Dr. Silverman took occasion to denounce Israel Zangwill, the Jewish poet and playwright from England, who on a recent visit to the United States confined his public addresses to a series of fault-finding criticisms of the American people. For this Dr. Silverman called him "a man of dense ignorance and the most despised man in America."

No longer can Palestine be called a land of rocks and deserts. Fertile has returned, the swamps have been drained, forests have been planted and the rich sub-soil has been holed. Scattered over various parts of the Bible land there are more than 60 colonies of Jewish settlers. New cities and towns are arising, vineyards and orange groves are planted, railways built and modern highways traverse the fields along which the Israelite heroes of antiquity marched against their enemies.

New Type of Jew.

Instead of the drooping figure of a Jew, the new Jew is a man of years of perspiration and vitality in Europe, a new race is getting back its physique and the truth of the Bible text, "In the days there were giants upon the earth, has again come true.

GEORGIAN MAY DIE FROM HOSPITAL FIRE

Morganton, N. C., April 3.—Three patients lost their lives and one other probably was fatally burned in a fire which early today partially destroyed Broad Oaks sanitarium here at an estimated loss of approximately $250,000.

The dead: John P. Green, Charlotte, N. C., contractor; Mrs. Isabella Hereford, Union, W. Va.; Mrs. Julia Hamilton, Jacksonville, Fla.

Mrs. Cornelia Gaines, a patient from Georgia, was badly burned that at the local hospital to which she was taken it was said tonight that she had slight chance of recovery.

The fire, of undetermined origin, already had made considerable headway when it was discovered by the night watchman, and it spread so rapidly through the frame structure that it was only through the heroic efforts of doctors, nurses, patients, attendants and the local volunteer fire company that most of the 42 patients were rescued uninjured.

Green, who had been in the sanitarium about four weeks, died tonight from burns he received while engaged in rescue work. According to witnesses, he made repeated trips into the blazing building and carried to safety at least three women patients before he collapsed, helpless, in a corridor.

The body of Mrs. Hereford, who had been smothered to death, was found after the fire had been extinguished. Mrs. Hamilton was trapped in her room and burned to death.

The other inmates of the institution were removed to the state hospital nearby. The main part of the building was not damaged, only the north and east wings being burned.

CONGRESS IS INCLINED TO DROP MELLON QUIZ

Washington, April 3.—Further indication was given today of the bipartisan inclination to drop the proposed investigation to determine whether Secretary Mellon's interest in commercial enterprises renders him ineligible to remain head of the treasury.

When the resolution of Senator McKellar, democrat, Tennessee, proposing the inquiry was reached Senator Wadsworth, republican, New York, objected to its consideration. Senator McKellar made no effort to prevent it being passed over.

NEW IS ATTACKED FOR FIGHTING HIKE IN POSTAL WAGES

Washington, April 3.—Confidence that "congress will enact a measure at this session to do justice to the postal workers" of the country was expressed tonight by Representative Kelly, republican, Pennsylvania, author of the pending bill in the house to give flat salary increases, in a statement in which he attacked Postmaster General New "for opposing the measure."

According to postoffice department estimates the general increases proposed in the Kelly bill would mean an outlay of $150,000,000 annually, whereas the department favors a revision of the pay schedule with the expense to be met in part by increasing postage rates over than the first class.

Astonishment was expressed by Representative Kelly at seeing "the temporary house and senate single organization in the world setting itself in opposition to the world of congress." It is time, he added, that proper compensation be given to the postal employees who are now handling, with only slightly larger numbers, 500 per cent greater volume of mail than in 1913.

COLUMBUS POWER CO. SEEKS RIGHT FOR DAM

Washington, April 3.—The Columbus, Ga., Electric and Power company has applied to the federal power commission for a preliminary permit to construct a dam 120 feet high at Bartlett's Ferry, about 18 miles above Columbus. Ultimate installation of 20,000 horsepower is proposed.

ENDEAVORERS OPEN ANNUAL CONVENTION

With delegates present from many sections of Georgia the twelfth annual Georgia State Christian Endeavor convention was opened Thursday night at Westminster Presbyterian church. The main auditorium was filled to capacity, many local Endeavorers being present.

Governor Clifford Walker delivered the principal address, his topic being "The Challenge to the Young People of Georgia." Other speakers at the opening session were Mayor Walter Sims, Thomas A. M. Y. A. president of the Atlanta Christian Endeavor union; Dr. R. O. Holtzendorff, president of the Atlanta Epworth League union; Frank Hooper, Jr., president of the Atlanta People's union; and Dr. Plato Durham, president of the Atlanta Christian Endeavor union.

The convention, which will continue through Sunday, will be resumed at 9 o'clock this morning (Friday) when Miss Anna Cameron, of Nacoochee institute, state superintendent of life-work recruits, will conduct a special meeting in the interest of raising young people for life work along religious and evangelical lines.

Other participants of the morning session will be Miss Margaret Mitchell, Miss Marie Gene Cole, and Rev. R. C. Long, of Chattanooga, assistant secretary of the Presbyterian board of Christian education; Charles F. Evans, all south field secretary of the United Society of Christian Endeavor.

Among present arrivals during Thursday were Charles C. Hamilton, of Boston, national field secretary; Dr. E. R. Quirk, of LaBonn, Ga., state secretary; and Dr. E. R. Quirk, superintendent of the southeast district of the United Christian Endeavor.

This afternoon outgoing visitors will be taken by local Endeavorers on a motor trip to Stone Mountain. Tonight Dr. Ben R. Lacy, Jr., pastor of the First Presbyterian church, will speak on "Christ's Appreciation of His Friends," and Clyde Underhill, of Savannah, will deliver the president's annual message.

Another speaker will be Dr. R. F. Kirkpatrick, former pastor of the West End Presbyterian church, and former president of the state union, who will speak on "The Christian Endeavor Movement."

Automobile, reception and information committees greeted delegates Thursday as they reached Atlanta. Visitors are being entertained in homes of local endeavorers.

WAS DOPED, NOT DRUNK, CLAIM MADE BY BRAGG

Richmond, Va., April 3.—Charles that he was "doped" and not drunk when arrested last night were made in a formal statement today by Delegate Bragg, of Brunswick county, a member of the special legislative committee investigating the department of game and inland fisheries.

The statement was made before the committee and although it was accepted by the members it was not placed in the record owing to an objection by Delegate Warren of Pittsylvania.

Charges of being "drunk and disorderly" preferred against Dr. R. W. Bragg as the result of a fight in a restaurant here last night, were dismissed at the request of the prosecution when the case was called in police court this morning.

Delegate Q. C. Davis, of Norfolk county, and Senator Stubbs, of Middlesex, accompanied Dr. Bragg to court. The three are members of the special legislative committee investigating charges made by Senator Stubbs of illegal expenditures and "illegal and immoral" use of boats by the state department of game and inland fisheries. Walter Kirsch, proprietor of the restaurant where the fight occurred, was represented by Attorney Albert Kirsch, who withdrew the complaint against Dr. Bragg. The delegate then was dismissed.

Delegate Davis was a member of the party at Dr. Bragg's table last night when the Brunswick delegate was alleged to have struck the manager of the restaurant when he complained of profane remarks which women dining nearby said emanated therefrom. The fight became of a general character after the participants were forced into the kitchen. Dr. Bragg was taken to the first police station, where officials refused to accept bail for him for several hours. Eventually he was released under the care of Senator Holman Willis, of Roanoke, chairman of the investigating committee. No charge was made against other members of the Bragg party, which included Senator W. W. Workman, of Richmond city.

2 SHIP LINES FINED FOR CARRYING BOOZE

New York, April 3.—Customs officials today fined the Cunard line $275 and the Hamburg-American line $281 as penalty for the recent seizure here of whisky and wine aboard their respective vessels, the Berengaria and the Albert Ballin.

Owners of the tug Pacific were fined $200. She was seized recently off New London, Conn., by coast guards, who alleged she was hauling gasoline, food and water to the rum fleet.

DEAN INVESTIGATES BURNING OF CROSS ON COLLEGE CAMPUS

New York, April 3.—Dean Hawkes of Columbia college today questioned several students who witnessed the cross last night by several robed and hooded men of a fiery cross opposite Fumald hall, a dormitory where Frederick W. Wells, negro law student, of Union City, Tenn., has a room. Fellow residents at the hall have tried to oust him.

No action to discover those who brought the cross to the campus in a motor car and in the garb of the Ku Klux Klan, saturated it with gasoline and then ignited it, will be taken by university authorities, it is understood.

"If it was burned, it was done, I feel sure, by non-students," Dean Hawkes declared.

A movement is afoot among Fumald residents to bring a counter protest to the dean to offset that presented by students who want Wells to leave his room in the dormitory. In answer to the original protest the dean said the university would not tolerate discrimination in the dormitories, which house a number of Chinese, Japanese and other orientals, and that those who objected to Wells' presence might themselves leave.

On the heels of his reply the house committee of the dormitory drew up

PERSHING RETURNS FROM FRENCH TOUR

New York, April 3.—General John J. Pershing, chief of staff of the United States army, returned today on the steamship George Washington from France where he has been since last October occupied mainly in writing his memoirs of the world war.

The situation in Europe is improving, he said, adding that his observations were circumscribed by the small area in which he spent his vacation. Most of the time he was along the Riviera, but he visited the battlefields and inspected the American cemeteries.

General Pershing said he was convinced the Dawes committee would "turn out something very constructive and very beneficial" to the reparations situation, but beyond that he refused to be quoted directly on any subject except his admiration for the George Washington and her command, Captain Harold A. Cunningham.

He urged that Americans travel by American ships in order to aid in the upbuilding of the merchant marine.

COTTON SHIPPERS PLAN ASSOCIATION

Houston, Texas, April 3.—The Southern Cotton Shippers' association, to include all cotton growing states, was tentatively formed here today.

The proposed organization would embody several state groups, including the Texas Cotton exchange and the Arkansas Cotton Trade association.

Among purposes would be fostering of fair play in trade relations, elimination of misunderstandings between southern spinners and buyers of raw cotton, reduction of handling costs and ultimate decrease in the margin between producer and consumer.

H. M. Bennett, of the Arkansas association, was chosen tentative chairman and R. C. Dickerson, of the Texas association, tentative secretary. Sessions will continue Friday and Saturday.

GIANTS VICTORIOUS OVER WHITE SOX SQUAD, 10 TO 7

Circuit Clouts Feature of Contest

BY HENRY ALLEN.

Muzzy McGraw's master mind which slipped a cog when in the world series with the Yankees last fall was functioning properly yesterday when he sent his crew of Giants against the Chicago White Sox at Spiller's field in an exhibition game. The final score was, Giants 10, and White Sox 7.

Muzzy's mind functioned without a bit of trouble in the encounter with the American league squad, in spite of the fact that he directed the duties of his team from a seat in the grandstand at Spiller's field.

But in spite of the fact that the Giants had Muzzy's master mind to fall back upon in case they should happen to play themselves into a hole, the White Sox threatened many times during the contest and it was only in the latter stages that the affair was settled.

But Muzzy was relieved from the burden of taxing his mind to a great extent when "Boss" Ryan was sent in during the fifth inning to relieve Wainwright, the $50,000 home run purchased from Louisville, who started the twirling activities.

Ryan Perfectly Capable.

This Mr. Ryan appeared to be able to take care of himself against the White Sox even though he didn't face so well against the Yankees when the world's championship was at stake. A total of four hits were gathered off the delivery of Mr. Ryan by the Sox but these were kept scattered enough to hold down any scoring.

But Steingrabe, the youngster who had been hailed as one of the greatest budding prospects in the prize camps this season, was responsible for all of the Giants' runs. This big overgrown youth put on his cap and the task assigned to him by Johnny Evers, who is handling the destinies of the White Sox, until Frank Chance is able to regain the outfit.

And while the pitching assignments were the main topic of discussion, it appears from the scorebook that Wainwright was far from being in the very best of things when having to face the White Sox batters. The seven runs scored by the Sox were all during his regime on the mound. The total of six hits that he allowed coupled with his wildness in the mostly responsible for the rout.

Exciting Time.

The fans that journeyed out to the park to see the big league action were treated with all kinds of home ball. Home runs, the like of which have never been in the Atlanta park since folding and everything that goes to make a baseball game exciting.

Three homers, all of which were sent into the left field bleachers or over the stands, were presented to the fans. Kelley, the Giants' first baseman, clouted over the stands in left field, while the Sox's longest ball ever hit at Spiller's field, Bill Ruth will certainly have a mark to shoot at when he makes his appearance here Saturday.

And for the twirling, the fans were treated to all sorts, but Frankie Fusch came up to all expectations in this department, while Eddie Collins, who contributed their best in making this feature enjoyable.

The Sox, who were acting as the visiting team, pulled over three runs after two men had been retired. Collins walked and went to second on Rabbits' single to right. Shesley then belted one into left field for the second, which hit the top of the stand.

Giants Take Lead.

But the Giants went into the lead in their half. Southworth singled and Groh walked. Both advanced a base on a passed ball. Frisch singled, scoring Southworth and Groh. Young singled and Frisch went to second. Muesel tossed Young at second and Frisch went to third. Kelley singled, scoring Frisch and sending Young to third. Jackson doubled to left, scoring both Young and Kelley.

The Sox added another in the third when Collins walked and scored on Rabbits' double to right. The Giants added two more when

Muesel walked and Kelley hit a homer over the left field stands. But another big inning for the Sox was in the fourth when Schalk and Steingrabe walked. Archdeacon doubled, scoring Schalk, sending Steingrabe to third. Ostergard was out on a fielder's choice, and Steingrabe scored, sending Archdeacon to third. Collins went out to Kelley on an easy groundout, which looked like a sure double, but the big first sacker was slow on his feet and Archdeacon scored.

The fifth gave the Giants another when Groh was safe on Archdeacon's error and went to third on Ryan's single. Southworth singled to left, scoring Groh. About 10,000 fans witnessed the game.

The Giants won the game on five in the seventh inning when Ryan doubled and later scored on Southworth's home run into the left field stands.

A fair-sized crowd witnessed the game.

Boorde To Fight Antley April 7

Freddie Boorde, who is scheduled to meet Boots Antley in the feature bout in Columbus, Ga., Monday, April 7, is training hard these days.

Freddie wants to square himself with the Atlanta fans for the poor showing made against the Columbus southpaw in their recent meeting. According to Billy Lutz, who guides Freddie in his training, the reason of Freddie's poor showing here was the fact that it was the first time in Freddie's career that he was called upon to meet a left-handed fighter.

Boorde is sure to turn the tables on Antley this time, since he knows how to handle a southpaw.

Billy Lutz returned from Louisville, Ky., where Larry Deas, Memphis waterweight, He exhibited poor reports from Louisville, where the local blond Irishman made a big hit with his clever tactics. It was one of the best fights they witnessed in Louisville in some time. Billy also stated that they want to see Avery again at an early date.

JIM DELANEY TO FIGHT STRIBLING

St. Paul, Minn., April 3.—Mike Gibbons, manager of Jimmy Delaney, St. Paul light-heavyweight, announced today he had accepted terms to box Young Strabling, Georgia school boy, in a ten-round bout at Indianapolis, May 2.

STRIKE MAY AGAIN FIGHT MUGGLE

New York, April 3.—Willie Strabling, who won everything but a world championship from Mike McGraw in their fight at Newark last Monday night, may have a third try at the title in an open-air fight in Newark. It depends on whether McGraw will consent to risk the title another time against the cranking right fist that flopped him on his ear in the tenth round of their latest engagement. Blauvelt, Black and Cullen, the firm of promoters who fomented the latest Petrel's hauls to watch their favorite battle against Oglethorpe's representatives.

PETRELS PLAY BAPTISTS TODAY

Two time-honored rivals of the children and the diamond will meet this afternoon when the Mercer Baptists invade Hernando field for the first of two battles with the Oglethorpe Petrels. The fringes between the Baptists and the Petrels started at 3 o'clock and it is expected that a large number of the Mercer student body will make the jump to the Petrel's haunts to watch their favorite battle against Oglethorpe's representatives.

Following the meeting with the Oglethorpe force yesterday afternoon, the Big Green delegation of Dartmouth will move on to Athens for a two-game series Friday and Saturday with the Georgia Bulldogs. This series will be the final one for the visiting birds, as they have played Tech, Oglethorpe and Mercer during their training in this section.

The Petrels and the Baptists each held a win over the Big Green forces at the same time both of these teams have dropped a contest to this squad left ball tossers.

As a result, there is a swamping of first basemen on the Tech team. Louis comes off probation to play first; Doug Wycoff comes off first base to play probation.

Coach Clay loses a first baseman, then gains one; thus proving beyond doubt the theory that everything comes out all right in the wash.

Hold Long Workout.

Both the varsity and the freshmen held extensive workouts yesterday. Dad Amis, coach of the varsity, held a lengthy infield practice, whipping his men into prime condition for the game today.

The return of Harrison to his post in center field ought to add to the Tigers' outer garden performers. Siz sustained a lame arm during the first part of this week's workout and it is likely that the big finger will not face the Jacket hatters this week. The Tech team will arrive in the Plains men camp at noon Friday.

As a result, there is a swamping of first basemen on the Tech team. Louis comes off probation to play first; Doug Wycoff comes off first base to play probation.

Coach Clay loses a first baseman, then gains one; thus proving beyond doubt the theory that everything comes out all right in the wash.

Hold Long Workout.

Both the varsity and the freshmen held extensive workouts yesterday. Dad Amis, coach of the varsity, held a lengthy infield practice, whipping his men into prime condition for the game today.

The return of Harrison to his post in center field ought to add to the Tigers' outer garden performers. Siz sustained a lame arm during the first part of this week's workout and it is likely that the big finger will not face the Jacket hatters this week. The Tech team will arrive in the Plains men camp at noon Friday.

Nonamacher Will Play First Sack For Tech Today in Auburn Game

BY JOHN STATION.

The Tech varsity baseball team was to leave this morning about 6:30 for Auburn, where it will engage the Tigers of the Plains in a two-game series. One game today, the other Saturday. About 12 o'clock today the Auburn freshman team will arrive in town to play the Tech freshmen a two-game series.

Late yesterday afternoon Louis Nonamacher was declared eligible to play in the games against Auburn. Louis, one of the our first base candidates, has been on probation for a couple of months, but he pulled up in his work sufficiently this past month to be allowed to participate.

As a result, there is a swamping of first basemen on the Tech team. Louis comes off probation to play first; Doug Wycoff comes off first base to play probation.

Princess Mary Tourkestanoff, a distinguished member of the royal family of Russia, will arrive in Atlanta Sunday morning, April 6, and will be a guest at the Hotel Ansley. She will be extensively entertained during the following week at a number of parties, teas and dinners.

On Tuesday afternoon, from 4:30 to 5:30 o'clock, a large tea will be given at the Atlanta Woman's club to which the women of Atlanta will be invited. A number of prominent Atlanta women will receive with Mrs. Richardson and the guests of honor.

On Thursday, April 10, Princess Tourkestanoff will be a distinguished guest at the regular meeting of the French alliance in the palm room of the Atlanta Woman's club, when she will be introduced by Mrs. Carl Lewis, secretary of the alliance. Following the regular program of the meeting, Princess Tourkestanoff will address the members, speaking in her very fluent and inimitable style in French.

On both of these occasions she will speak concerning life and conditions in her native Russia. She came to Russia but before the revolution in this country in the interest of the starring children of Russia and in their behalf she is making a tour of the United States. She is an unusually cultured and charming person and has been most cordially received and elaborately entertained wherever she has visited. Not only during but before the revolution in Russia she was attached to the court of the czar, and has appeared in royal society and at the exclusive social functions of the European capitals.

The princess was perils one of the most interesting characters during the revolution, as in her house most of the counter-revolution by the division of Denikin's army was organized. Since that time she has handled many French, English and American matters relative to her native country, and it was through this channel that she established connection with a noted French perfumer, enabling her to come to America to aid her starving countrymen.

At the tea on Tuesday a splendid program of Russian and French music will be rendered. Miss Margaret Anvery, talented Atlanta soprano, will sing a group of songs.

A number of other social affairs have been planned in honor of the Russian princess, the dates of which will be announced later.

Waist and Hips Reduced Quickly with New Kind of Girdle

The moment you put on this new kind of girdle your waist and hips look inches thinner—and you get thin while looking thin, for this new invention produces the same results as an expert masseur. Makes fat vanish with surprising rapidity while you walk, play, work or sleep, yet does it so gently that you hardly know it is there. No more heart-straining exercises—no more disagreeable starving diets—no more harmful medicines—no more bitter self-denials.

At last! A wonderful new scientific girdle that improves your appearance immediately and reduces your waist and hips almost "while you wait!" The instant you put on the new girdle the bulky fat on the waist and hips seems to vanish, the waist-line lengthens, and your body becomes erect, graceful, youthfully slender! And then—with every step you make, with every breath you take, with every little motion, this new kind of girdle gently massages away the disfiguring useless fat—and you look and feel many years younger!

It ends forever the need for stiff corsets and gives you with comfort Fashion's straight boyish lines!

The Madame X Reducing Girdle is different from anything else you've seen or tried—far different from ordinary special corsets or other reducing methods. It does not merely draw in your waist and make you appear more slim; it actually takes off the fat, gently but surely!

Actually Reduces Fat

The Madame X Reducing Girdle is built upon scientific massage principles. It is made of the most resilient rubber—especially designed for reducing purposes—and is worn over the undergarment. Gives you the same slim appearance as a regular corset without the stiff appearance and without any discomfort. Fits as snugly as a kid glove—has garters attached—and so constructed that it touches and gently massages every portion of the surface continually! The constant massage causes a more vigorous circulation of the blood, not only through these parts, but throughout the entire body! Particularly around the abdomen and hips, this gentle massage is so effective that it often brings about a remarkable reduction in weight in the first few days.

Those who have worn it say you feel like a new person when you put on the Madame X Reducing Girdle. You'll look better and feel better. You'll be surprised how quickly you'll be able to walk, dance, climb, indulge in outdoor sports.

Scandinavian Music Features Program of Atlanta Music Club

The program presented by the Atlanta Music club Wednesday morning was one of the finest of the many fine programs offered throughout the season. It was devoted entirely to the music of Scandinavia, which subject was ably treated in the preliminary paper by Mrs. Jane M. Mattingly, the chairman of the morning. Not only did this paper present an adequate review of the development of music in Scandinavia, but it was characterized by real literary merit, being interspersed with poetic flights that marked it as something different from the usual run of didactic discourses.

Miss Ethel Beebe and Alex Keeser gave an almost perfect rendition of the G major sonata of Grieg for piano and violin, with a careful attention to details calculated to bring out clearly every beauty of this fine work of Norway's greatest composer.

The Trio, opus 42 of Gade, for piano, violin and cello, was played by Mrs. Charles Bowman, Alex Keeser and Edward Richter, with such grace and complete understanding of the composition as to call forth expressions of delight from the audience. It was a notable performance of this graceful and refined number.

Mrs. Charles Bowman also appeared as soloist in three short piano compositions by Olaf and Sinding. Mrs. Bowman is so well known as a masterly pianist as to render comment at this time almost superfluous. Sufficient to state that her reputation as an artist was sustained by her beautiful rendition of these charming little gems which were lifted into the realm of real art through the delicate and careful interpretation of this true musician.

As an offset to the instrumental numbers of the program, Mrs. Benjamin Elsas contributed a group of five songs by various composers. Never has Mrs. Elsas' beautiful voice been heard to better advantage, nor has her power of rendering the true inner meaning of a vocal composition ever been more clearly shown, for these five songs, totally different in their subject matter, were each presented in accordance with the moods suggested by the words and music. Besides possessing a clear, pure voice, and rare interpretative intuition, Mrs. Elsas had that supreme accomplishment seldom found in singers—perfect enunciation of the text.

The time has long passed when piano accompaniments to the vocal parts were merely a weak and sham adjunct, and such would no longer be tolerated by audiences of today. The songs on modern programs require as much artistry in the accompaniment as in the vocal part, and Miss Eda Bartholomew's charming playing of the sustaining piano parts to these exquisite songs greatly assisted to enhance their enjoyment.

Eighty-five Girls Frolic at Y. W. C. A.

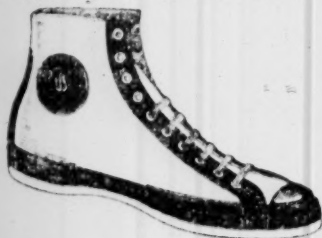

A supper, stunts and songs afterwards, with games played at the close of the evening, was the program enjoyed by 85 young business and industrial girls at the Y. W. C. A. Thursday evening. The group included five clubs of business girls and two of industrial. Each club gave an original stunt. There was the former joke, the girls who illustrated the crowded conditions of the association with the gymnasium too small for a class in Swedish gymnastics, no swimming pool, and a scene where three clubs were meeting in one room with a glee club rehearsal in one corner. One club gave an April fool stunt and the program had clever songs by girls of talent.

During supper it was announced that the club federation is planning a membership drive and will sell papers and old magazines to raise a fund for sending their delegates to summer conference. Miss Elisabeth Goss and Miss Julia Walker, secretaries of the business and industrial department, assisted the girls in their evening's fun and frolic.

Mrs. Roger Wilson is in charge of all the features and entertainments.

The luncheon will be for the members of the eighth ward, and any interested Atlanta women who are anxious to join the league. One booth will be located in the eighth ward, in which will be stationed members of the eighth ward squad all week, so that women may join the League of Women Voters without any trouble. House Party Is Entertained.
Mrs. Charles Bowman's tea on Thursday at the Grand Hills Golf club was a pretty compliment to her niece, Miss Claire Hoffman, and her house guests, Misses Jane Glinzer, Sarah Jamison and Elizabeth Mather, of Charlotte, N. C., who are spending the spring holidays with Dr. and Mrs. Bowman.

Bridge was played during the afternoon in the lounge of the club which was decorated for the event with quantities of lovely hyacinths, tulips, geraniums, roses and violets.

Mrs. Bowman and Miss Hannah received the guests, both wearing black satin gowns with smart spring hats also of black.

Miss Mather's costume was a striking combination of black and white worn with a hat to match.

Miss Glinzer wore rose crepe and her hat was a French model of rose.

Miss Jamison's gown was of blue crepe and her hat combined the same shade of blue with white.

The guests included 35 members of the college set.

Mrs. Harrington Is Hostess at Tea.
Mrs. Eugene Harrington, who acted as general chairman for the successful Junior League carnival, entertained the chairman at tea Thursday afternoon at her home on Maddox drive in Ansley Park.

Silver candlesticks held lavender unsheathed tapers and the menu were in the same color motif.

Mrs. Harrington, who was lovely in a gown of beige-colored Georgette crepe, deserves praise and credit for the staging of the Junior League carnival, one of the most entertaining and enjoyable affairs ever sponsored by the league.

This announcement was made today by his counsel, who said they would request an early trial.

The committee tomorrow intends to question George J. Ettenberg, who was one of Robinson's employees, and to examine documentary evidence.

POLAND DISMISSES SCOFFLAW DIPLOMAT
Warsaw, April 3.—(By the Associated Press.)—Dr. Vincoslaw Sokolowski, former first secretary of the Polish legation in Washington, who was recalled recently after the seizure of a large amount of liquor in his apartment, has been released from the diplomatic service after an investigation by the foreign office.

Dr. Sokolowski was recalled after a raid on his Washington residence during the Christmas holidays and the discovery of alcoholic liquors estimated to be worth $50,000.

Secretary of State Hughes sent a note to the Polish minister regretting that the community customarily enjoyed by all diplomatic officers should not have been observed in this instance, but pointed out that the first secretary "supposed to have had in his possession a quantity of alcoholic beverages greatly in excess of that which privileges and immunities in this regard . . . would justify."

Chinese Art Used In Home Decoration With Splendid Effect

BY MAIRIE LEE TOLLE.
Striding out Peachtree street these spring days one recognizes that the Chinese influence has struck this most renowned boulevard of the south.

For in the window display of the Wylie Jones Furniture company there is to be seen a typical mah jong room. This brilliantly decorated window is the work of Mrs. Henry Bernard Scott, well known Atlanta woman and artist.

Chinese Influence Prominent.
Since the game of mah jong invaded the shores of America and has become the popular fad of this country the Chinese influence is met at every turn. A touch of Chinese decoration is to be found in many American homes today, adding always a bright bit of color to the interior.

Mrs. Scott has used in the decoration a large number of her own Chinese works of art from her fascinating home studio. Rare pieces of antique furniture, from the Wylie Jones store are effectively used in the decoration.

Occupying the center of the window is a mah jong table done by Mrs. Scott in Chinese, reminding, showing dragons of green, red and white, which are symbols used in the game.

Charming Background.
Forming a charming background for the setting are wide screens done in gold and black, showing raised rays of tinted cherry blossom, and wisteria. Other accessories used in the decoration of the window are antique shawls, spun copper bowls in jade color, Chinese porcelain, swans, lacquered chairs, costly hats, Mandarin coats used in graceful display of effect. Casting a soft glow over the Oriental scene are two huge swinging Chinese lanterns, brought from China by friends of Mrs. Scott.

THE ERRING WIFE AND MOTHER

is the woman who sacrifices her health and consequent happiness to her ambition. We all know such women—women who dream that their homes shall be kept immaculately neat and attractive and their children well dressed they overdo and soon bring on some feminine ailment which is evidenced by nervousness, irritability, headaches, backache and other aches and pains attending such ills. Every woman should remember that the most successful remedy for such conditions is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound which for 50 years has been restoring women to health, strength and happiness.

Refined, Delicate Skin Secured by Absorption

No complexion can be considered beautiful if the skin is coarse in texture. This trouble can be overcome by thoroughly cleansing the pores, removing the dirt and impurities which make the skin rough. For this purpose there's nothing better than Mercolized wax. The wax completely absorbs the rough, muddy or discolored outer skin and underlies the pores. The fresh, young skin underneath, then in evidence, is exquisitely delicate, refined and beautiful. And it is kept so, as the pores now freely expel effete matter and drink in the life giving oxygen.

Mercolized wax, because of its wonderful absorbing power, is the best of all other treatments for coarse, pimply, yellow, freckled or blotchy skin. It is applied at night like cold cream and washed off next morning. It is perfectly harmless, of course, and can be found in any drug store.

None So Exquisite.
These powders are supreme productions, made for those who demand the best without regard to price. They are as fine as vapor, as harmless as dew, and fragrant with my favorite perfume. Most of you have never seen such exquisite powders.

There are two kinds, light and heavy. I use a heavy cold cream powder, with a heavy like my Youth Cream. It clings and stays. But I have for years paid $5 per box for my powders—to get the finest in existence. So do most movie beauties. They must have the best.

I started to offer other women my aids to beauty and to youth. But I never thought of powders. I did not dream that such powders as I use could be supplied at modest prices. But the makers have helped me out. They now supply me these powders under my name at a price which all can pay. I told them that women would use millions of boxes. So those who use my beauty help may now get my powders, too.

The Honorable Mr. Bing

BY HORATIO LANKFORD KING

"You wouldn't of course under any circumstances bribe a friend?"

Mr. Bing shouldn't have said that, and he knew it. But Bronson was always had been smiling in his arrogance. He might not stoop to trickery like Sawyer, but he was a bit of a fox just the same.

The thrust and go home, but it did not in any way ruffle Mr. Bronson. Nothing Bing could say mattered. He was the lion and Bing was the rabbit. He had never at any time more than tolerated Bing. And he had always been too educated to think that Bing knew anything worth knowing or when could be of any value to him. It was only those who just escaped mediocrity who went to Bing. As for himself, he was too big to go to any man. He always and then to come to him. He had heard enough and it was time to close the incident. Bing was guilty of trafficking with Sawyer, and that was enough. He, Mr. Bronson, would have him ostracized.

"You've done nothing but dissemble, Mr. Bing, and there is only one solution. But it's a sad solution for a man like you who has long been the respect of his community."

"Cooks?" repeated the poor Mr. Bing hesitatingly. "Mr. Bing rises, or why is this the most important thrust on me?" But it was no use to even be facetious, or try to smile things down. He was already so down he would not be able to get up again. He was glad when Bronson suddenly turned his back to him and walked away. It was a relief.

The great Bronson was hardly out of sight when he heard a familiar whistle and somebody calling him by name from the street. Sawyer? Passing by in his limousine, Sawyer had seen him through one of the big windows and made a noise. Nobody but Sawyer would have done such a thing. If he could have gotten away from the window he would have done so, but too late. It was now always too late for him to catch himself up before evil caught him. He sized up the situation and decided he would go out and see what Sawyer wanted. This time.

Alert as a ferret, Sawyer waited for him. I feel, not being able to help himself, Mr. Bing took a place by him in the front seat. A stumpy cigar stuck out of one corner of Sawyer's big mouth and he grinned at him like a cunning panther. Not often was it that Sawyer was not satisfied with himself. And in a way, Sawyer and the great Bronson resembled each other very much. Both had the same broad, hard-lined mouth.

"That was Sheerocks, Bronson. I saw you paltering with, wasn't it, Binky?"

"Yes."

"What's on his list?"

"I don't know."

"He looked fairly ill over some thing. And you mean he was piling on. Did you notice?" and Mr. Bing chuckled at the language.

"What do you mean by piling, my dear fellow?"

"My check to you went through his bank."

"You counted on that, of course," Mr. Bing surprised himself by answering. Not until this moment had the trickery of it dawned on him.

"Maybe I did, returned Sawyer cheerily. But didn't you think of that when you went round there?"

"No," said Mr. Bing furiously. "Take the trouble to look at the record in a bill of sand to hide it. I must have thought my own disguise complete by letting somebody else cash it for me."

"You're a liar, Binky," and a ponderous, good-natured fist came down on Mr. Bing's back, who would under the shock, "Come out of it, all boy. Anyway, I came to take you around to see my new offices in that new Piedmont skyscraper—first story there is. Ever thing slap bang. First of furniture, but I'll have the floors, photographic imported etchings on the walls—everything. Want to go into a few details with you, get you started. And say, make your hours 10 to 12, and from 2 to 4. Bink's no, king's? The rest is play and pinhole. Gosh! to make that old bird Bronson see green pretty soon."

"So it's revenge after all?"

"Him, yes. I got to hit back at Bronson. He's the fellow that threw me out of the Plumed club."

"That's all a mistake, Sawyer, about it being a thieves' club. You really let your imagination run away with you."

"All the same I'd like to get Bronson."

Mr. Bing saw no use in carrying the matter further. Talk did not mean anything anyway. He and Mr. Bronson had said too much already in this nightmare passed away and he and Mr. Bronson became friends again.

He hesitated as to make any unnecessary inquiries as to what were to be his duties in Sawyer's office. As for Sawyer's many "projects," he'd rather not know anything about them at all. Ignorance could be bliss. With a feeling of foolish dismay, he felt that he was the innocent victim of some grand prank of Fate he could not understand. Besides, he supposed, must take his course, for destiny or fate had gotten him into this net. But one thing was sure. He would remain honest. He would be upright, and he would deal fairly with everybody even if it came to putting hands on things other men found so abhorrent as an occupation. Still, vague fears and horrible possibilities loomed before him.

But how many times that night had he been said by millions of people, and some of them sent to the penitentiary. A man in hell could say, "Circumstances over which."

Up in the new offices of Sawyer, the self-sufficing Sawyer door, he appeared to gather himself together, and looked around and at Sawyer with a faint attempt at interest.

That over there, Binky, is your desk. But don't let that nine hundred dollar affair and cut glass inkwell make you vain. Take 'em for granted—take everything for granted! That's the motto to us who want to prosper. Take everything for granted—as you."

"But, my dear Sawyer, what are you doing, promoting, organizing? I'm not a man to get up without going to work. You must be joking."

"Folks, Binky, folks of the imagination is one main staple. But all popular brands these figures are gone to sell, and Sawyer smiled expansively, his nose dropped. He was Mephisto. And up here on the twentieth floor of this building we'd carry on our trade. We have everything to offer that the hearts of suckers could ask, on that appears to that most present and fatal shadow of human nature—something for nothing."

He had not so much as let Mr. Bing out of his sight long enough to regain his liberty of mind and collect his scattered forces. He never meant to let Mr. Bing change his mind. For the first time in his life Mr. Bing found himself deprived of both his freedom and privacy. His long, peaceful afternoon naps in the club's library were to be no more. A few inconsiderable debts or a nagging little worry might at times hang over his head like a sword of Damocles, but Sawyer was worse than any imaginary sword of the conscience. He was a swordfish that charged at him from all quarters, a regular octopus, in fact.

The fellow never let him alone; never gave him so much as a breathing spell. He was on the humph as well, when, if there was anything to tradition, Binky of Sawyer's breed ought to be lax and hazy work. But not Sawyer. He hated nothing, he said, but gentlemen. It was more honorable to be true crook than one of those onerous parasites. And, for a crook, he was rabid on the subject, the obligation one owed to the world of paying one's debts promptly, bragging loudly that he owed not a penny to anybody. He said it was the first law of righteousness—this same Sawyer said that, who wouldn't hesitate a moment to fence even a widow's. And Mr. Bing was in no position to split hairs with him, because he had always owed a few debts, but never felt rushed to pay them. He of course always eventually paid his debts, but not until some time he had to look up the heirs of the man he owed. And certainly he would never have kept a widow waiting much less rob one."

He saw no way of estimating himself from the tentacles Sawyer expertly threw around him, and his dilemma was terrible. He woke up next morning with the firm resolve to do something drastic. He would even suffer the degradation of going to Mr. Bronson and telling him the whole story.

Perhaps Bronson would understand, take pity and rescue him from this human fish. He rummaged about in a sack attic of forgotten things. But the rummaging resulted in nothing. Lastly, he had fled to his Bible for an inspiration.

He read hungrily and long. He raved through it from cover to cover like a man chased by a demon in a dream. But not one illuminating passage did he find that covered his case and showed him a way out. Not even Solomon had thought about him, nor David, in his Psalms, who of all the prophets was the most earth-transcending and imaginative. It seemed he came under no human category; that nobody, not even the prophets, had had the imagination to foresee what would be his mortal problem. He was like Daniel in the lions' den, but with none of Daniel's inspiration and ability to tame the lions.

At last he decided to go to Mr. Bronson, plead for an audience, tell him the whole story, and then, if he could, to resign. He had not so much as let Mr. Bing out of his sight long enough to regain his liberty of mind and collect his scattered forces. He never meant to let Mr. Bing change his mind. THE GUMPS—A STANDING OFFER

Evening! I'm surprised you ain't got any more pride. For pride of possession, the kind that means appearance, is more important than pride of principles."

"Pride of principles?" stammered Mr. Bing. "More important than pride of principles? That's destructive philosophy. Mr. Sawyer—more important than pride of principles. 'Principles.' Surely you don't mean it! And this has been my home for twelve years. I love—"

"Twelve years of utter darkness!" snarled Sawyer. "No fit for hats. You got to manure your own self according. Don't let your enemies catch you in a place like this!"

"Enemies?" chorused Mr. Bing. "By rights I never had any enemies until—"

"But now you got plenty enemies, Binky! Plenty of greatness, y'know. The great always reap a crop of enemies. And you don't know yet what a grand luxury it is to have a lot of choice A. Number One enemies! A fightin' man always wants enemies. He kicked irreverently at an old raved rug, starting. "I couldn't afford to come up here again, or be seen in this buildin'. Down the hall it looks like there might be a blind tiger somewhere. I bet it was built back in the year 1910."

"Yes, that was the year."

"Looks like it! But don't let yourself get to affiliatin' with mummies. I bet ol' Rameses has got his crypt next door, or maybe ol' Tut himself."

"You are mistaken. My neighbor next door is a musician of rare talent, and I can't understand why Fate has been so unkind to him. He deserves a place high up among the immortals."

"Ladies?"
